EX-PRESIDENT COMMENTS ON RATE RULINGS JUST MADE

TAFT SAYS COURT POINTS THE WAY

Sees Establishment of Superior
Federal Authority.

REVIEWS THE RATE DECISION

Finds the Ruling in Ultimate Effect
To Be a Victory For the Railroads.
Congress the Recourse of Interstate Roads Which Chafe Under State Control—Essence of Former President's Comment.

New York, June 11.—Ex-President William H. Taft wrote the following comment on the Minnesota railroad rate decision handed down by the supreme court. Mr. Taft finds the decision in ultimate effect to be a victory for the railroads. The court, while vindicating the position taken by the state in the present case, nevertheless points the way for the establishment of a superior federal authority. Mr. Taft says that the only recourse of the interstate railroads which chafe under state supervision is to congress, which, under this decision, has the power to make uniform laws which will be effective even within the borders of the states themselves. Mr. Taft says, in part: "The court holds that congress has complete power to control interstate commerce and to regulate it, and that this necessarily includes the power to regulate such business within state lines as affects indirectly interstate business. But the court holds that until congress acts in respect to such business within the state, it must be left to the action of the state."

"It further holds that the present interstate commerce act does not cover or seek to regulate such state business by its terms and that in no other state had congress declared its intention to take over control of this class of state business."

"The railroads, therefore, that deem themselves prejudicially affected by the state regulation of state business, can find no remedy for their complaint in the interstate commerce act or in any judicial proceeding based upon that act. To this extent, the issue is decided against the railroads. But the judgment of the court is a broad declaration in favor of the plenary power of congress to vest the interstate commerce commission and the federal courts or other appropriate instrumentality with the authority to regulate and restrict such improper or prejudicial interference with interstate commerce as that fixed by a state railroad commission or merely state rates may involve."

"Of course there were in that case other issues as to whether the rates fixed by state commissions were confiscatory of the railroad property, but they did not rest on the interstate commerce clause of the constitution, out on the fourteenth amendment, as to due process of law, and I do not discuss them."

"The result of the main issue is a great victory in principle for the national control of interstate commerce, and the possession by congress of the right to use every appropriate means to render that control effective and uniform, even where the means may include an investigation and restriction under congressional authority of state-fixed rates on state business."

Guardsmen Not Exempt.
Columbus, O., June 11.—Contributing members of the Ohio national guard are not exempt from jury service, so the supreme court holds in the case of James J. Heckin, who was drawn for jury service at Cincinnati and who refused to respond because of being a contributing member of Company I, First regiment.

SHOTS FIRED, MISSILES FLY

Woman, a Spectator, Shot and Killed and Seven Other Persons More or Less Injured in Mix-Up With the Police—Fifteen Men, Including Industrial Workers, Are Placed Under Arrest.

Ipswich, Mass., June 11.—One woman was shot and killed, seven other persons were wounded by bullets and many others, including several policemen, were hurt by flying missiles in a strike riot outside Ipswich Hosiery mills. Fifteen persons, including leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, were arrested.

The dead woman was Nicoletta Pandolopoulou, 27, a spectator of the fight.

The trouble started when pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World, who have conducted a strike against the hosiery mills for seven weeks to gain an increase in wages, interfered with the 500 employees as they left the mills. The 30 policemen on duty tried to protect the employees, but could not restore order.

Chairman Hall of the board of selectmen began reading the riot act, but this only caused the pickets, who could not understand English, to become more demonstrative.

Bricks and bottles began to fly as the police charged the mob. According to spectators, shots were fired from two tenement houses overlooking the scene, occupied by mill hands. Officers in the street began firing and the mob broke and fled.

Several victims of bullets were stretched on the pavements. Blood was trickling down the faces of many of the officers where broken bottles and bricks had hit them.

Among the 15 persons arrested are Nathan Mermann, an organizer for the Industrial Workers, and E. L. Pingree, secretary of the Industrial Workers in Lowell, and his wife.

GET BACK AGAIN

London, June 11.—The debate on the second reading of the home rule bill, which was rejected by the house of lords and will have to be passed three times by the commons under the parliament rule, was resumed. After several addresses had been delivered the division on second reading was taken. Mr. Balfour's motion to reject the bill was defeated by a vote of 368 to 270. The bill was then passed on its second reading and referred to the committee.

Warrant Issued at Toledo Alleges Illegal Soliciting of Votes.

Toledo, O., June 11.—John A. O'Dwyer, vice chairman of the Democratic state central committee and chief deputy supervisor and inspector of elections of Lucas county, faces a warrant for his arrest on the charge of illegal solicitation of votes for Walter F. Brown, chairman of the Progressive state committee, when the latter was a candidate for delegate to the constitutional convention two years ago. The Honest Election league, an organization recently formed in Toledo, is reputed to have instigated the case as part of an attempt to show the existence of an alliance between Messrs. Brown and O'Dwyer for political control of the county.

Wilson Announces Appointment of Dozen Ohio Postmasters.

Washington, June 11.—President Wilson sent to the senate the nomination of Arthur L. McCarthy to be postmaster at Franklin, O. Harvey Garber and W. W. Durbin had endorsed Adam Bridge, editor of the Franklin News, for this appointment. Senator Pomerene endorsed McCarthy and the selection was made on his recommendation. Franklin is in a Republican congressional district and therefore Senator Pomerene has the distribution of the patronage there.

This case is accepted by the members of the Ohio delegation as conclusive evidence that in the distribution of postmasterships the postmaster general and President Wilson will follow the recommendations of the Democratic representatives and senators.

Garber had also protested against the appointment of H. E. Kinzly as postmaster at Nevada, in Representative Key's district, but Kinzly's name was sent in along with the following others: Frank V. Lantz, McCarthy; George D. Dunathan, Findlay; Byron C. Porter, Kinsman; Emile F. Juillard, Stryker; Rufus R. Kurtz, Sycamore; Neal M. Osborn, Burton; B. E. Custer, Montpelier; William Briggs, New Holland; L. S. Baker, Weston.

Marysville, O., June 11.—Fire Marshal W. A. Fishinger filed an affidavit in the precinct court for the citation of Miss Helen Moffitt, 14. She is charged with trying to burn down the home of Miss Carrie Reed. The fire marshal alleges that Miss Moffitt has set fire to the Reed home several times.

One of the most active of the strikers in Paterson, N. J., is Miss Hannah Silverman, who has been a silk mill employee for several years. She is a forceful and influential speaker. Her utterances caused her arrest, and immediately she emulated the British militants and started a hunger strike. After a few days her physical condition became such that it was deemed advisable to release her on parole.

THE SILENT HILLS RELEASE SECRET

ELOPING COUPLE FOUND MURDERED

Bodies Identified By Sons of the Dead Man.

Ironton, O., June 11.—Following the finding of the badly decomposed bodies of a man and woman on the top of a Kentucky hill, opposite Ironton, a coroner's jury reported that the couple had been murdered. Two sons of George Steel, 56, identified the man as their father. They also identified the woman as Edith Forest, 45. It was found that Steel's skull had been fractured in several spots and had been shot through the side. Mrs. Forest's skull was crushed.

Police of Ironton and Russell, Ky., are searching for two men who are suspected of the double murder.

Dec. 14 last, Steel and the Forest woman, both of whom were married and lived at Kitts Hill and Lagrange, respectively, suburbs of Ironton, left their families and eloped. All traces of

AMERICA LEADS IN BIG GAME

WHITNEY'S BIG FOUR MASTERS THE ENGLISH

Win the First Game of International Polo Match.

New York, June 11.—Captain Harry Payne Whitney's Big Four of Meadow Brook surprised most of the crowd of 30,000 persons that saw the first game of the international polo match by getting a hump on the vaunted warriors sent over by England to recapture the cup, the Americans coming out victorious after a thrilling finish by 5½ goals to 3.

The defending quartet, composed of Lawrence Waterbury, No. 1; Monte Waterbury, No. 2; Harry P. Whitney, No. 3, and Davenport Milburn, back, were forced to enter the field at the eleventh hour and take the place of the team originally selected to play for the West Chester trophy.

Spectators leaped to their feet and hats were thrown in the air when Milburn whipped the ball through the posts and scored the third goal for America near the end of the first chukker, while England's side of the score had remained entirely blank. Although the game tightened at the end, the challengers never recovered.

PROBERS OPEN INVESTIGATION

Will Go to Bottom of the West Virginia Mining Troubles.

MILITARY OFFICIALS CALLED

Must Produce Before the Senate Committee the State Records Regarding Declaration of Martial Law and Proceedings of the Military Board Placed in Charge of Strike District Operators' Statements.

Charleston, W. Va., June 11.—Opening an investigation of the coal mine strike which has dealt death and destruction in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mining sections for a year, the United States senate mine strike investigating committee called on the military authorities for the records of the proceedings prior to and under the declaration of martial law in the strike territory.

Judge Advocate General George S. Wallace, Adjutant General Charles D. Elliott, Major James I. Pratt, Captain Charles R. Morgan and Captain Samuel L. Walker were summoned before the committee to produce the state records regarding the declaration of martial law, and the proceedings of the military committee which was placed in authority in the strike district. Senator Borah of Idaho desired their testimony and their records as the basis for the branch of the inquiry which he is conducting as to the charge that citizens have been "arrested, tried and convicted in violation of the constitution or the law of the United States."

For the miners there appeared Frank S. Monnett, former attorney general of Ohio; Seymour Stedman of Illinois and A. M. Belcher and H. W. Houston. The operators were represented by Z. T. Vinson, E. W. Knight and C. C. Watts, with a half score of assistants.

Two lengthy preliminary statements were filed with the committee by the attorneys for the operators. The first was filed by Mr. Vinson for the operators generally, and the second by Mr. Watt for the Paint Creek Collieries company. Both were pleas of "not guilty," and both denied in detail and in toto the charges made in the resolution passed by the senate authorizing the inquiry.

The operators in their brief made the counter charge that the United Mine Workers of America, in its attempts "to organize" the coal miners in the West Virginia field, is responsible for the violence which has characterized the strike. The operators declare that they know of no peonage system in the West Virginia coal fields.

Former Governor Glasscock, who was governor when the strike began and who declared martial law in the district, will appear before the committee tomorrow.

Declares They Are Not Yet Ready For Home Rule.

New York, June 11.—Ex-President William H. Taft, speaking before the members of the Philippine society at the Plaza hotel, vigorously defended the attitude of the recent Republican administration in dealing with the government of the Philippines, and declared vehemently that the inhabitants of the islands are not now capable of governing themselves. His remarks were made largely in refutation of the claims of Emanuel Quezon, delegate in congress from the Philippines, that his countrymen were ready to assume self-government, and that the more educated of his compatriots were more discontented now over conditions than ever before.

WILL TAKE SIGNATURES UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT

Campaign to Secure $20,000 Appropriation to Stamp Out Hog Cholera Closes Saturday Next. Many More Names Needed to Back Up Fayette's Claim. A Very Important Matter Depending Upon Public Interest.

If there are men residing within the boundaries of Fayette county who have not yet signed on the petitions directed to the State Board of Agriculture, and asking that this county be selected as the spot in which shall be expended the appropriation of $20,000 for the purpose of stamping out hog cholera they will have to sign before the coming Saturday night or not at all.

This decision was reached Wednesday morning by those in charge of the campaign, and it is their intention to file all petitions the first of next week with Secretary A. P. Sandles, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

All those having petitions in their possession are requested to leave them with the Washington Savings bank on or before Saturday, June 14. Those who will be unable to reach Washington on that day are requested to send their petitions in by mail on Saturday.

In the meantime the hardest ticks must be put in. Thousands of men have signed the petitions, but many more signers are needed to enable Fayette county to measure up in the test to which she will be put. In deciding where the big appropriation will be expended by the state to conquer hog cholera, the Board of Agriculture will be guided very largely by the interest shown by the residents of each county applying, and there are known to be several.

Fayette county has lost more hogs than any other county in the state through the ravages of hog cholera, and if she shows a pretty general interest in this fight proposed by the state, these two pregnant facts will make it almost impossible for Fayette county to lose.

Let every man who is circulating a petition put in his time faithfully between now and Saturday night, and let every man who is desirous of having the state step in to Fayette county and stamp out cholera, free of all cost to our people, sign one of these petitions before it is too late.

Red Cross Ball Blue will wash double as many clothes as any other. Don't put your money into any other.

UNION DELIVERY HAS RUNAWAY

About the noon hour today, while one of the rigs of the Union Delivery company was making the North street route, the horse attached to the wagon loaded with groceries and produce was left standing in front of the residence of Mrs. John Kerr, an automobile came rapidly up from behind the horse and in less time than it takes a toad to snap his jaws on a large black ant, the peaceful worn out delivery nag was transformed into a fiery steed, tearing away out North street with the wagon cracking at his heels and the groceries "going down" at every jump.

The way that horse handicapped by weight and conditions, tore out North street has convinced all who saw him that to win the Latonia Derby next Saturday would be a mere brush for him.

He ran far beyond the corporation line before he was satisfied. The horse made good time in his little spurt, but nothing compared with the time made by the "heads of the families" whose Wednesday dinners were strewn from curb to curb along the route the flying horse traveled.

Moral—Never tie a delivery horse.

PARK YOUR AUTOS

The G. A. R. Committee has arranged for the care of the automobiles of visitors during Encampment week. The machines may all be parked in the lot across the B. & O. track opposite the Willis Saw Mill.

Put your auto away and feel free and secure.

HOW'D YOU LIKE TO BE THE ICE MAN?

Owing to the provisions of law which require that goods must be weighed when sold, business men throughout the state are adjusting themselves in accordance therewith. Under the law the auditors of each county are designated as county sealers of weights and measures, who are assisted by deputies. During the past year these officers have been very busy "starting the boys." Now it's the ice man they are after and the word has gone down the line that ice dealers can no longer sell ice either by wholesale or retail by the "chunk", but must weight it. Orders to this effect have just been issued by the auditors of various counties. In this city no order has been necessary as ice has long been sold here by weight.

She Landed at Farmer's Home on Chillicothe Pike and Announced Her Intention of Staying There Indefinitely.

LOOKED LIKE PEDDLER OF STRANGE NATIONALITY.

Spent Night in Jail—Aroused With Difficulty This Morning and Left the Bastille for Unknown Destination.

Tuesday night about nine o'clock Deputy Sheriff Nelson was summoned to the Garringer home on the Chillicothe pike to aid in solving an unusual puzzle in human life and to aid the family in ridding themselves of an unwelcome guest.

Arriving at the Garringer home the deputy sheriff found that shortly after the supper hour a strange woman, who was outfitted as a peddler with a meager stock of wares, walked coolly into the home and announced in broken English that she was going to stay there.

Every possible effort aside from resort to actual force was made by the family to get the visitor to move on, but they proved unavailing. As a last resort the sheriff was summoned by phone and the deputy was soon on the scene.

The woman who was a foreigner, but of what nationality neither the Garringer family nor the officer could determine, was obstinate in her intention of staying with the Garringer family.

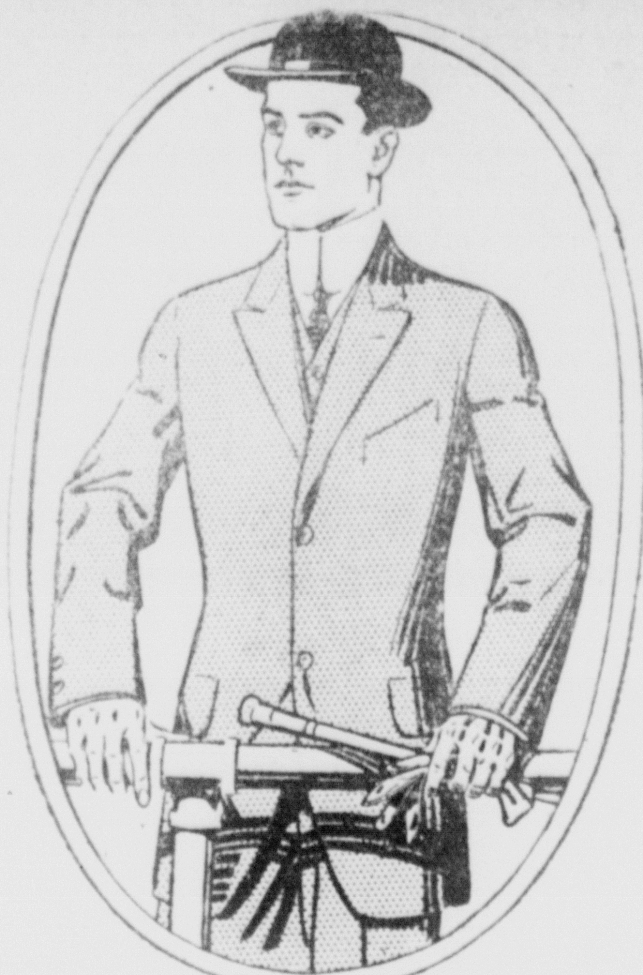

There being apparently no other alternative, she was hustled into the sheriff's rig and brought to the county jail. She refused to give any name, tell her destination or the place she started from. It was with difficulty that the woman made herself understood in the limited amount of information she saw fit to impart. She made no serious objections to accompanying the deputy sheriff to the jail and entered the barred doors without a pause.

She slept soundly all night, indeed so soundly did she sleep that the sheriff and his assistants were unable to arouse her this morning.

Dr. Roy Brown was summoned and soon had her awake and ready for breakfast. After eating a good square meal she expressed a desire to "be on her way". She was released at once and struck out in the direction of the railroad depot, since which time she has not been seen.

Where she came from is a mystery to all.

She was about 45 years old, rather small and very dark complexioned. That she was a foreigner was evident at a glance.

NOW PERCY MAY AND HE MAY NOT

Among the Ohio Postmasters whose names were yesterday sent to the Senate by President Wilson for confirmation as Ohio postmasters, was that of William Briggs, who was named for the New Holland job.

If confirmed by the Senate Briggs will succeed Percy May, the present incumbent and thereby hangs the tale. May was one of the Ohio postmasters appointed by President Taft just before the expiration of his term of office, but the confirmation of May along with numerous other fourth class postmasters, was held up in the Senate by the Democrats.

Now Senator Burton, of Ohio, is threatening to retaliate and by a combination of Republican Senators hold up the confirmation of fourth class postoffice appointments as the Democratic Senators did with the Taft appointments.

So it has come to pass that the result of the war which will rage in the Senate around the New Holland postoffice appointment will in all likelihood establish a precedent which will determine the fate of hundreds of fourth class postmasters and applicants for appointments to fourth class postoffices.

Percy may hold his job and if he does it is "good night" for hundreds of aspiring Democrats.

Then again Percy May lose and if he does hundreds will lose with him. Either way their are many who hope Percy May.

TRIP TO GETTYSBURG AS GUESTS OF STATE

Survivors of the battle of Gettysburg all over the state of Ohio are looking eagerly forward to the excursions to be conducted by the state, and more than 700 old soldiers residing in Ohio have accepted the invitation to become the guests of Ohio on a trip to Gettysburg, Pa. Acting on these advices the state has completed arrangements for the return of a small remnant of that great host which she offered on the sacrificial altar.

It is probable that several more additions to the list will yet be made. Following is a list of Ross county veterans who will attend:

John B. Smith, George Hughes, James Knighton, Chillicothe; Simon Mick, Bourneville; Martin Knoce, John S. Neff, Conrad Rull, Adelphi; W. Knighton, Henry Wiltshire, Gillespieville; Lewis Montgomery, Kingston.

The Present Cold Snap

This has been an unusual cold snap to say the least of it. Most people, especially those of the younger generations are inclined to think the present low register of the mercury in the tubes of the thermometers breaks all records.

According to precedent firmly established since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, the old citizen who can remember the time when, at this season of the year the mercury sank lower, bobs up serenely. Some times this old citizen who comes forward at times like these gets a little mixed in his facts and figures—a little hazy in his details—but that is always excused by the extreme age of the "authority".

One thing, the oldest inhabitant is not present in great quantities, showing a pernicious activity these days. He is remaining under cover with a pretty good grace. In times of flood and storms he shines forth with a radiance which is at once the envy and the awe of the young and an exasperation to those who are traveling down the shady side of the pathway of life and are ambitious to see records of extremes established so that in the years to come they can remember when records were made.

Seriously though the weather bureau has not yet furnished record proof of a colder ninth of June than last Monday.

If this is the record cold spell, and it seems to be by all the records except that of frail human memory, this year 1913 is so far living up to the advance notices sent out by the superstitiously inclined.

Now only well started into the sixth month we have had record floods—floods which have, in their awful immensity of damage and volume of water struck even the oldest inhabitant dumb—we have had tornadoes and cyclones in sections never before devastated.

If the same ratio continues throughout the remaining six months, the believers in ill luck combinations of numerals will be jubilant in spite of their misery and see in their "vindication", a cause for joy which will overshadow their sorrows.

This is a peculiar old world any way. It has always refused and still refuses to get into a rut and sail along according to man's schedules.

Man is just as peculiar as the world too, and in spite of his boasted intelligence, his superior knowledge and strength of will, begins to wobble just a little when atmospheric conditions cut up some decidedly unusual high jinks.

These extraordinary conditions exert a terrific influence to pull men back to superstitions for an explanation of the unexplainable.

Whenever we have summer weather in winter or winter weather in summer the superstitious people are listened to with much more respectful consideration than they receive when the forces of nature are moving along according to man's schedule made on the experience of his short span of years.

The "never" of man's time is not far back yonder in the past and what a puny little bunch of records the best of man's creation is any way.

Giving man the wider, longer range of human recollection included in his record book and the span of his records reaches only a few seconds back.

Old Men Cast Adrift to Make Room For Young Add to Homeless

By JAMES T. HUNT, Business Manager of the Bowery Mission, New York

THERE are two hundred thousand men and women in America who can be classed as "DOWN AND OUTS," and these are being added to constantly. In New York city alone there are forty thousand who come in touch with the missions every year. Of this number perhaps four thousand five hundred honestly aspire to rise in life. Thousands of others are annually lost.

The typical "down and out" is the man without a home, without a job and without the hope of gaining either. Very often he is an OLD MAN OR ONE GETTING ON IN YEARS. If he is young he has usually become the victim of some degrading habit.

The "down and outs" fall readily into three great divisions. There is the class who has reached that stage through drink and dissipation. There is the class composed of those who have failed through ignorance. And there are the OLD MEN.

A PECULIARLY PATHETIC "DOWN AND OUT" IS THE OLD MAN. THE MAN WHO HAS LOST HIS POSITION SOLELY BECAUSE OF HIS GRAY HAIRS. THIS MODERN CRAZE FOR YOUTH IS A CRUEL THING. IT IS FOOLISH, TOO, BECAUSE IT DISCOUNTS THE VERY REAL VALUE OF EXPERIENCE.

Of course some men break up physically at an early period, but there are many who do not. The best farmhand we ever sent out of this mission was a man of seventy-four.

Poetry For Today

THE MARBLE HOUSE.

This is a curious house indeed;
No person stands in sight;
And all have everything they need,
If it be day or night.

And no one asks another one
If he be ill or well;
And no one speaks of work begun,
Or has a tale to tell.

And no one sings a pleasant song,
And love no more may plead
Forgiveness for a word of wrong,
Or some too careless deed.

There is one window and one door
In this most peaceful home;
And they who dwell here ask no more
Through wider fields to roam.

A lonesome name is plainly writ
Across the lintel high;
One word, you scarce would notice it
If you were passing by.

And rose may bloom and snow may drift,
But pink or white the lawn,
No lip will move, no eyelid lift,
No curtain be withdrawn.

—Ellen M. H. Gates, in Harper's Magazine.

INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS

A Fourth of July without fireworks was decided on for New York by the committee which has this year's municipal celebration of the holiday in charge. Of the $25,000 voted by the Board of Estimate, $10,000 is to be devoted to illumination. Other features promised include scores of athletic meets throughout the city and distribution of 100,000 copies of Lincoln's Gettysburg address among the children.

May importations of diamonds at New York were of record total, amounting to $4,606,000 or $1,500,000 more than May last year. This is largely due to importations in advance of an increase of tariff.

An assembling of the North American Indians in one final grand council in Colorado is the plan now being considered. This camp fire is likely to prove the last grand Indian council the world will ever witness, is scheduled for 1915. Falling in with the Panama-Pacific and Panama-California expositions the Council is already held up as an attraction for visitors to the coast and tourists are urged to see that their route includes a stop-off at Denver. The Indians of the many different tribes will spend the summer in separate villages as near primitive conditions as possible. Denver expects to offer many attractions for the expectant tourists besides wild Indians and magnificent scenery of Colorado.

A Major Richardson, who is well known in England for his success in training dogs for police purposes, has returned to London from his second visit to the Balkans since the war began. He says that at the siege of Adrianople the Bulgarians used dogs in front of their trenches at night to prevent Turkish sorties. The dogs used were the Albanian sheep dogs who are trained to lie about 200 yards from the flocks to protect them from wolves. At Monastir the Servians used dogs as sentries.

A moving picture camera company recently spent a day at the University of Iowa, making two reels of films of the college and its activities. All the buildings and most of the student enterprises are shown on the film. It is planned to use the pictures during the summer to advertise the university to prospective students and others interested.

On a government telephone line in Arizona, cactus are made to serve as poles whenever they happen to stand conveniently in the course of the line. This policy is dictated by economy as the cactus tree is numerous along the routes. On some lines redwood poles alternate with the cactus in the proportion to one cactus to two poles; for another, second-hand boiler tubes alternate with the useful cactus in the same proportion.

Sales of the Studebaker corporation for the last five months has increased 20 per cent over 1912, and promises to reach a total of $50,000,000.

The wonderful increase in the use of electricity is shown by the Lamp committee of the National Electric Light Association in its recent report. In 1912 90,000,000 lamps were sold, an increase of 48 per cent over five years ago.

XENIA SWITCHES LIBRARY TO SHOULDERS OF COUNTY

Subject Has Been Discussed by Trustees of Local Library, but Objections to Plan Overshadow Benefits.

For some time past the city of Xenia has been experiencing some trouble in caring for and maintaining in proper condition her city library which is a Carnegie institution.

A few days ago the library authorities stood under the burden and the county took up the running where the city stopped.

The Xenia Gazette has this to say of the transfer:

"A very important transaction for Greene county and the city of Xenia took place June 4th, 1913, in the transfer of the Xenia Public Library by the Library Association, to the control of Greene county."

The resolution of transfer is by the Library Association, a majority of the members being present, of the library property, including the building and all appurtenances to the Commissioners of Greene county, in one all around trust for Greene county; on the consideration that said county will provide for and maintain said library, the County Commissioners accepting the trust on the condition stated, and Diana Roberts, the original donor of the land, joining in the deed of transfer, and releasing the Xenia Library Association from forfeiture of the lot, and transfers same to Greene county.

It seems to be generally understood that the County Commissioners propose to continue the Library Association in charge of the library, as heretofore. This would be a very satisfactory arrangement, as the ladies on whom the burden of the library has long rested are deeply interested in its success; and in fact, Xenia would never have had the library if it had not been for these ladies.

The city of Xenia, or the school district, has only a duplicate of six or eight millions of dollars. The county has a duplicate of about forty-two millions of dollars, so it can easily be seen how much more able the county is than the city to maintain the library.

It is proposed, we believe, in time to arrange for branch libraries in different parts of the county, so that all will have the benefit of the library.

Considering the worry that the Library association has had on account of the lack of funds to properly maintain the library, this new arrangement is quite satisfactory to the ladies. Under it the library will be maintained and kept open as it should be, as was agreed it would be when Mr. Carnegie gave the $23,500 for its establishment. The arrangement seems a very satisfactory one all around.

The County Commissioners will make a levy of one-twentieth of a mill on the county duplicate which will raise the sum of approximately $2100 for paying the library running expenses.

It seems that the trustees of the local Carnegie library have been investigating the county library plan, but so far the plan does not appeal to them with that force which makes them anxious to close a deal which will make of the local library a county affair instead of one of the city exclusively.

Objectionable as well as beneficial features are seen by the trustees in the proposal.

The action of the city of Xenia may cause a reconsideration of the library matter in this city.

It is true that women more frequently suffer from kidney trouble than men. It is also true they suffer more intensely, owing to their more sensitive organism. Katherine L. Norton, New Bedford, Mass., says: "I had a terrible pain across my back, with a burning and scalding feeling. I took Foley Kidney Pills as advised, with results certain and sure. The pain and burning feeling left me, I felt toned up and invigorated. I am glad to recommend Foley Kidney Pills." They are tonic in action, quick in results. Blackmer & Tanquary.

ENDEAVORERS WILL MEET IN LIMA

The annual convention of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Union, the young people's organization of 26 denominations and composed of 1800 senior and six hundred junior societies, with a total membership of 160,000, promises to be the greatest gathering of this kind ever held in Ohio.

Sixteen hundred delegates registered at the Canton convention last year and two thousand are being prepared for at Lima.

The main sessions of the convention will be held in the Allen County Memorial hall and the larger churches will be used as department headquarters. During the meeting nineteen simultaneous conferences and sectional institutes will be held covering every phase of young people's and general church work. Five young people's specialists will be present. Wm. Shaw, of Boston, general secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor; Field Secretaries Howell, of Minnesota, and Michigan, Gates of Illinois, Farrill of Wisconsin and Dr. C. H. Hubbell, young people's secretary for the Methodist Protestant church.

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT STINSON CONSERVATORY

The Stinson Conservatory of Music again emphasized its musical standards Tuesday night in the elaborate program of music and elocution of the sixteenth annual commencement, at Conservatory hall.

Amid the plaudits of an enthusiastic audience surrounded by the attractive accessories of bright lights and fragrant flowers, three graduates received well earned diplomas from the hands of Mrs. Eldora Stinson, the head of the Conservatory.

Miss Beulah Elliott and Miss Nellie Bridwell, graduated in the course of music, including theory and harmony, and Miss Nona Thompson in elocution, under Mrs. F. G. Carpenter, of the Elocution department.

The large stage presented a pretty scene, its background the stars and stripes and in the foreground a bank of potted plants and cut flowers, above which rose the three girl graduates in white, their arms filled with flowers.

Forming a semi-circle behind them was the faculty of the Conservatory, Mrs. Stinson and the assistant teachers of music, Misses Golda Baughn, Gladys Butcher and Senneth Kel-lough, Mrs. Carpenter of the elocution department and Mrs. Anna Bush Coffman, of the art department.

Misses Elliott and Bridwell played a brilliant opening number, "Le Soir" Chaminade, with remarkable execution and technique.

Both young pianists demonstrated their ability in classical compositions that are only attempted by the most advanced musicians.

Miss Elliott played Concerto D
Major, Mozart, accompanied by Miss Bridwell. Its technique made heavy demands and emphasized the special forte of the young pianist, her octaves and forearm work, and the strength of her fingering.

Miss Bridwell played "Concerto C Major", Beethoven, accompanied by Mrs. Stinson, and played with excellent expression, the very difficult composition. Miss Bridwell excels in her runs and trills and her musical interpretation. Her work as accompanist was also admirable.

Miss Nona Thompson gave two readings. Her work in "King Robert of Sicily," Longfellow Wooten, was particularly ambitious and she gave the scenes effectively, with intelligent interpretation. It was a beautiful reading, with Miss Kenneth Kellough playing a most artistic piano accompaniment which also told the story in its plaintive melody.

Of forceful contrast was Miss Thompson's work in an exceedingly amusing monologue, "Mrs. Money-made's Fitting," a take-off on one of the newly rich of the Mrs. Malaprop variety. It is quite new and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, and gave the young reader opportunity to show her ability in a difficult style of work.

Mrs. Stinson presented the diplomas with a few well chosen words of congratulation and Mrs. Carpenter added a clever little original rhyme toast to the class which called forth loud applause.

Closing the program, Handel's
"Harmonious blacksmith," was played by Misses Bridwell and Elliott and Mrs. Stinson. The three pianos were played as one and the ensemble work the feature of the notable composition.

Rev. A. L. Vandegriff, of New Holland, gave the invocation and Rev.
F. E. Ross pronounced the benediction.

WILSON IS TERROR OF JIMMY LAVENDER

Jimmy Lavender of the Chicago Cubs.

Chief Wilson of the Pirates is to Pitcher Jimmie Lavender of the Cubs what Hans Wagner is to Rube Marquard or, in other words, both are what Joe Tinker is to Christy Mathewson. The battling of the Texan against the Cub spitball was something terrible.

Rube Marquard.

and it about equaled the performance of Hans Wagner against Marquard. If Wilson and Wagner always batted against Lavender and Marquard, respectively, they would be fighting it out for fighting honors, each seeking the edge over the other with a percentage of about 450 or thereabouts, and a slugging total for extra bases that would beat anything in past records.

AFTER "KING" COBB'S CROWN

Joe Jackson and Tris Speaker Eager to Oust Georgia Peach From His Exalted Perch.

The opening of the big league baseball season inaugurated many interesting events, but none more likely to be followed with keen attention than the race for leading batting honors between Ty Cobb of Detroit, Joe Jackson of Cleveland and Tris Speaker of Boston.

Cobb has led the league in batting for six years, and last season hung up the awesome average of .410, which is going some. Jackson, for two years a close pursuer of Cobb, pasted the pellet for .395, while Tris Speaker, main stroke in the Boston Red Sox outfit, batted for .383.

Speaker and Jackson both have done great things so far this season, southpaws and right-handers all have looked alike to these two so far as the hittability of their hurling offerings went. Each is determined to be the athlete to drag Cobb from his throne and to beat out the other.

Ty, jealous of his honors, is still in his prime as a ball player and has no intention whatever of allowing himself to be ousted from the possession of one of the greatest honors which is offered by America's national game.

Bert Shotton, the Browns' outfielder, leading the batters of the St. Louis team.

Wagner cracked out three home runs off Marquard last season, not to mention a pair of three-baggers and a liberal sprinkling of ordinary base-hits. Wilson did the very same thing against Lavender, although his home runs won games from the Cubs, while, on the other hand, House was unfortunate in the fact that two of his three circuit smashes off Marquard counted for nothing, as the Pirates lost.

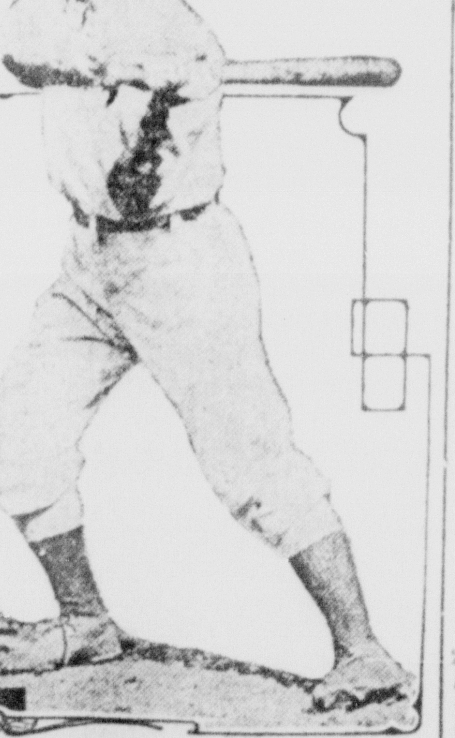

Wilson's batting against Lavender all season was something noteworthy. Three times on the Chicago's grounds the Texan slammed one of Lavender's splitters into the right field pavillion, and the drives came at the right time, too. One of Wilson's wallops was on September 4, when the Cubs still had a fine chance of ousting the Giants. It was a four-base smash in the eighth inning, with two runners on base that beat the Cubs. Another came on October 3, Wilson's homer in the eighth inning making the score stand a tie in the game that later was thrown out on a protest because Cotter batted out of turn.

Throughout the season Wilson was a thorn in Lavender's side. Aside from his three homers and three triples off the spitballer, Wilson had sundry singles, etc., among them the punky base hits on June 28 that robbed Lavender of credit for a no-hit game. It was a single to left field that evaded Jimmy Sheckard's grasp.

BLIND PENSIONERS SUFFER HARD BLOW

A decision of vital interest to blind pensioners of Ohio was rendered at Cincinnati Saturday when Common Pleas Judge Geoghegan handed down an opinion holding that the law providing for pensions to be paid to the needy blind is unconstitutional because it requires expenditure of public funds raised by taxation.

The opinion of Judge Geoghegan is rendered in the case of Peter Walton, a blind pensioner, seeking to enjoin County Auditor Edmondson to certify to the county auditor payment to him of $37.50 out of the blind pension fund of this county.

It was a test suit brought on behalf of Walton by City Solicitor Bettman and 320 other pensioners were interested.

Judge Geoghegan bases his finding on a decision of the Supreme court in 1909, which declared the blind pension law of 1904 was unconstitutional because he finds the present law, designed to remedy the defect in that act, does not do so as there have been no fundamental alterations in the law.

Judge Geoghegan said: "It is not for me to discuss the wisdom of this legislation and until the Supreme court sees fit to change its views I am constrained to hold the act unconstitutional."

HALF TON OF BUTTERMILK IN CREAMERY MONDAY

Manager H. L. Spray, of the Fayette Creamery, announces that Saturday last was the busiest day through which the new creamery management has passed.

From the cream taken in that day the concern on Monday manufactured a total of 1037 pounds of butter, which is also a record breaker, being 200 pounds better than any other day since the doors of the creamery were thrown open for business. Mr. Spray states that the weekly average is now above 3000 pounds of butter, and the price paid for butterfat is 29c per pound.

City Charter for Washington?

If the People of This City Desire to Avail Themselves of a New Form of Government, Here Is Another Important, Now Available, Feature in City Government.

THE RECALL

The purpose of the recall is to provide the voters with a means of removing officials with whom they are not satisfied. In the past, it has been customary in America to provide for the impeachment of an official who failed to do his duty, or who was guilty of misconduct.

The recall subjects the officials of a city to the necessity of not only complying with certain laws which are intended to regulate his conduct, but of complying with what a majority of the people believe he should do.

It is contended no law can be enacted to compel a successful candidate to carry out his campaign promises, hence he cannot be impeached if he fails to carry them out. However, he can be recalled, if the majority of the voters feel that he has broken faith with the people.

A recall is instituted by the filing of a petition, signed by a percentage of the voters, which varies in different cities, asking that an election be held, at which the question of removing from office the official with whom the voters are not satisfied shall be submitted. On the petition is the name of the citizen whom the signers desire to see placed in the office which they are seeking to vacate.

The election is usually held between 30 and 60 days after the filing of the petition. The name of the official whom the petitioners seek to have recalled, together with that of the candidate they name, is submitted on a ballot. If the official receives a majority of the votes, he remains in office, but if the other candidate receives a majority, he succeeds his opponent in the office.

In addition to controlling the acts of their officials through the initiative, referendum and recall, it is held by some to be desirable that the voters should have some means of controlling the public utilities within a municipality. The control of utilities will be discussed tomorrow evening.

DEDICATE STATUE TO MAINE HEROES

Impressive Ceremony at Unveiling of Monument.

FREE CUBA SENDS CRUISER

Great Naval and Military Pageant Precedes Dedictory Exercises in Which Maine's Commander and Chaplain and Other Survivors Take Leading Part.

New York.—Amid impressive ceremonies appropriate to the memory of the piteous tragedy it symbolizes the national Maine monument was dedicated here. A military and naval pageant, participated in by the nation that was given birth through it and the nation whose ship and men paid the frightful cost, was the most striking feature of the occasion.

Free Cuba was represented by three special envoys, delegated by the Cuban Congress, and a Cuban warship, the Cuba, with a representative detachment of soldiers and sailors from the little island republic. Soldiers and marines from the American warships in the harbor, regular troops, militia men, Spanish war veterans and distinguished civilians all united to make the dedicatory exercises the most impressive seen here in many a day.

Father John P. Chidwick, who was the chaplain aboard the Maine when she was blown up in Havana harbor on Feb. 15, 1898, assisted by a group of survivors, laid the wreath contributed by the nation before the prow of the ancient galley, carved out of a huge block of Tennessee marble, typifying man's mastery of the sea.

Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigbee, who was captain of the Maine, also acted in a similar capacity. Miss Ruth Gaynor, daughter of Mayor Gaynor, placed the wreath given by the city of New York, while Governor Sulzer personally placed the wreath contributed by the state. Ex-President Taft delivered the dedicatory oration and Bishop David H. Greer the invocation.

The monument, a notable piece of sculpture, occupies one of the most beautiful sites in New York, being located at the Eighth avenue and Fifty-ninth street entrance to Central park.

Attilio Florentini, A. N. A., was the sculptor and H. Van R. Magonigle, P. A. A., the architect. The central feature of the monument is a pylon 18½ by 21 feet and 40 feet high, paneled on its four faces and flanked by two colossal, representing respectively the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. The figures are of heroic proportions, each to a scale representing a man of fourteen feet—the Atlantic a youth in the fullness of his strength, the Pacific an aged man, half-slumbering.

At the base of the shaft is a group of sculpture antebellum in idea—Courage awaiting the flight of Peace and Fortitude supporting the Feeble. The lower part of the pedestal supporting this group is a conventional galley prow, on the bow of which kneels the figure of a boy holding wreaths of olive and laurel, suggesting the new era inaugurated in Cuba through the war precipitated by the destruction of the Maine.

The monument has been built by public subscriptions from all parts of the nation. The work, which has taken years, has been in the hands of the national Maine monument committee, consisting of William R. Hearst, John W. Keller and General James Grant Wilson.

As America contributed the money, so also did it furnish all of the materials that entered into the construction of the monument. The material for the pylon, the gates and wall are of Tennessee marble, with a granite base, while the golden group surmounting the shaft is of bronze from the guns of the Maine, richly gilded.
